

FREE GUIDE

10 Ways to Get Paid by AI Companies

AI can make a song in seconds. What it can't make is your voice, your face, your footage or your judgement, and AI companies pay for all four. Here are ten real programmes, what each one actually pays, and the small print worth reading first.

BY WIKTORIA KORBECKA · WOMEN LEAD AI · WOMENLEAD.AI

START HERE

You don't need to build an app

Most "make money with AI" advice tells you to build something. This isn't that. Every way in this guide pays you for something you already have: your voice, your face, your old clips, your everyday life or what you know.

I've checked every programme on its own website in November 2026. Where a number comes from somewhere else, I say where. Where something isn't published, I say that too.

> Be realistic. Some of these pay a few dollars a task. One has paid creators over $22 million between them. None of them are a salary, and the money is uneven: a few people earn a lot, most earn a little.

THE TEN AT A GLANCE

	PROGRAMME	YOU GIVE	EFFORT
1	ElevenLabs Voice Library	Your voice	Set up once
2	Kled	Short clips of everyday tasks	Per task
3	Troveo	Footage you never used	Upload once
4	Synthesia and avatar companies	Your face and likeness	One shoot
5	ElevenLabs Music Marketplace	AI tracks you make	Per track
6	Adobe Stock	Photos, video, AI images	Per upload
7	Wirestock	Photos and art for AI datasets	Per upload
8	Outlier	Your expertise	Hourly tasks
9	Prolific	Your opinions on AI models	Per study
10	DataAnnotation	Rating and fact checking AI answers	Hourly tasks

Numbers 1 to 5 are the five from my video. 6 to 10 are the extra five I promised.

FROM THE VIDEO

1 License your voice

ElevenLabs Voice Library

MOST PASSIVE

YOU DO Record a Professional Voice Clone of your voice, then share it in the Voice Library. Every time a paying user generates speech with it, you earn.

YOU NEED The Creator plan ($22 a month) to make the clone. You can downgrade after, and the voice stays live. You don't need a paid plan to receive payouts.

YOU'RE PAID Cash through Stripe Connect, about weekly, once you pass $10. You set a notice period (from immediate up to 2 years) that protects users who rely on your voice.

THE NUMBER Voice creators have earned over $22 million, across 10,400+ creators (ElevenLabs blog, updated 3 Nov 2026).

Honest bit: you only earn when paid users pick your voice, so a clear, distinctive voice in a useful style does far better than a generic one. Start at elevenlabs.io/payouts

2 Film your everyday life

Kled (iPhone app)

PER TASK

YOU DO Pick paid tasks from a feed, like filming yourself doing an everyday activity or photographing an object from every angle, for AI labs.

YOU NEED 18+, an iPhone on iOS 18.6 or later (no Android yet). Tasks vary by country.

YOU'RE PAID PayPal, Venmo or USDC, from $25, in 1 to 3 days. First cash out needs photo ID and a selfie.

THE NUMBER A live "Cook a Dish From Start to Finish" task paid $4 per accepted clip (open in 11 Southeast Asian countries when I checked).

Honest bit: each task shows what it pays before you start, but the quality score of your upload decides the final amount, and some App Store reviews mention small, slow payouts. Get it on the App Store: search "Kled".

3 Sell your unused footage

Troveo

UPLOAD ONCE

YOU DO Sign their partnership agreement and upload the clips sitting on your hard drive. Troveo licenses them to AI companies to train video models, and handles the deals and payments.

YOU NEED Footage you own the rights to, ideally 1080p or 4K. Processing takes 1 to 2 weeks.

YOU'RE PAID A royalty each time your content is used. You keep full ownership. The split isn't published.

THE NUMBER Troveo's own page now says over $50M paid to creators, from 7,000+ content owners. (IT Brief reported over $20M in April 2026, so it's growing fast.)

Honest bit: only upload footage you fully own: no clients' shoots, no music, no other people's faces without their permission. Start at troveo.ai/content-owners

4 License your face

Synthesia and other AI avatar companies

ONE SHOOT

YOU DO Get filmed in a studio so a company can turn you into a stock AI avatar that businesses use in their videos.

YOU NEED To be cast. Synthesia doesn't have a public sign up: it casts through agency partners, open casting calls and street casting.

YOU'RE PAID A flat fee. Synthesia licenses your likeness for three years. Its most popular actors can also get shares from a $1M talent fund.

THE NUMBER One actor got €4,600 for a three year Synthesia deal, and another got $1,000 for one year with a different company (AFP, April 2025).

Honest bit: read the contract twice. Some actors have found their AI double saying things they'd never endorse. Ask what your avatar can and can't be used for, and for how long. More at synthesia.io

5 Sell AI music

ElevenLabs Music Marketplace (and a note on Suno)

PER TRACK

YOU DO	Make tracks with ElevenLabs Music and publish them to the Music Marketplace, where businesses license them for social media, ads or offline use.
YOU'RE PAID	At least 25% of each purchase, rising for active creators, through the same ElevenLabs payout system as voices.
LIMITS	Up to 5 uploads a day. Buyers can't put your tracks on Spotify or resell them.
SUNO	Suno has no marketplace that pays you. On Pro ($10 a month) or Premier ($30 a month) you own your songs and can use them commercially, so you'd sell or distribute them yourself. On the free plan, Suno owns them.

Honest bit: this is the smallest earner of the five, and songs made entirely by AI may not get copyright protection. Start at ElevenLabs Music Marketplace

THE EXTRA FIVE

6 Sell photos, video and AI images

Adobe Stock

PER UPLOAD

YOU DO	Upload photos, illustrations, videos or AI generated images (labelled as AI) and earn a royalty every time someone licenses one.
YOU NEED	18+, and you must be the sole owner of what you upload.
BONUS	Adobe pays a yearly Firefly bonus to contributors whose work was used to train its AI. It paid the third one in September 2025. Amounts aren't public.

Honest bit: stock is a volume game. A big library earns, a few uploads won't. Start at contributor.stock.adobe.com

7 License photos to AI datasets

Wirestock

PER UPLOAD

YOU DO Upload your photos and art, or join paid projects where you shoot to a brief for AI training.

YOU'RE PAID Either a fixed payment per approved asset (after an unpaid test task) or 50% of each licence. PayPal from $30 or Payoneer from $50, every month.

Honest bit: since 20 January 2026, everything you upload goes into their AI dataset deals with no opt out. Fine if that's the point, but know it first. Start at wirestock.io/creators

8 Train AI with what you know

Outlier (run by Scale AI)

HOURLY

YOU DO Write tricky questions with correct answers, build marking guides and rank AI answers in your field.

YOU NEED At least an undergraduate level in your subject (postgrad preferred), ID, a CV and LinkedIn.

YOU'RE PAID Weekly on Tuesdays, by PayPal, AirTM or bank transfer. Rates depend on your expertise and are shown before each project.

Honest bit: the hardest one to get into, and the best paid if you're an expert. Start at outlier.ai

9 Get paid to judge AI

Prolific

PER STUDY

YOU DO Take part in online studies, including ones where you test and compare AI models.

YOU'RE PAID Cash by PayPal (never points or gift cards), from £6. Researchers must pay at least £6 an hour.

Honest bit: studies come and go, so treat it as pocket money. Start at prolific.com/participants

10 Fact check AI answers

DataAnnotation

HOURLY

YOU DO Review, rank and fact check AI responses. No coding needed for the general work.

YOU NEED To pass their Starter Assessment (you only get one go), fluent English and reliable internet.

YOU'RE PAID PayPal, a few days after you request it. They advertise up to $50 an hour for general work and $125+ for experts. Those are "up to" figures.

Honest bit: take the assessment when you're fresh and have an hour free. Start at dataannotation.tech

BEFORE YOU SIGN ANYTHING

Five questions to ask first

- [ ] What exactly am I licensing, and for how long? Your voice for one product, or your face for any use for three years?
- [ ] Can I take it back? Look for the notice period or the opt out, before you upload.
- [ ] Do I own everything in it? Client work, music and other people's faces can get you in trouble.
- [ ] How and when am I paid? Minimum payout, method and whether my country is supported.
- [ ] Who's asking? A real company never charges you to join. If anyone asks for a fee, walk away.

WHAT I'D DO

Pick one and set it up this week

Don't sign up for all ten. Pick the one that matches something you already have.

- You talk for a living (podcast, teaching, presenting): start with your voice, number 1.
- You've got years of footage on old drives: Troveo, number 3.
- You're an expert in something: Outlier, number 8.
- You just want to try it tonight: Prolific or Kled.

One hour is enough to set up any of them. The passive ones (voice, footage, stock) keep paying after that, the task ones only pay while you work.

Want to do this with other women?

You've got the list. Now imagine having a group of women trying these alongside you, sharing what actually paid and what didn't.

Women Lead AI is a community of women learning AI together, to grow careers, build businesses and stop figuring this out alone. Inside: weekly live sessions, real workflows you can copy, and women who actually get it.

Join us inside →

skool.com/she-leads-ai-1882 · You don't have to figure this out alone. Come say hi.

Every figure was checked on the company's own site in November 2026 unless a source is named. Programmes change their terms, so check the sign up page before you rely on any number. Nothing here is financial advice.